

How does a Health Savings Account work?

A health savings account (HSA) is a special savings account designed exclusively to pay for or reimburse current or future qualified medical expenses. Contributions are tax-deductible, and withdrawals for qualified medical expenses can be done tax-free. At the end of the year, unused funds stay with the employee and roll-over to the following year.

Employees and dependents who are covered by the CalCPA Health HSA program may open a health savings account, as long as they are not covered by another health plan.

The 2022 annual health savings account contribution limit is $3,650 for individuals with single coverage and $7,300 for those covered under a qualifying family health plan. Account holders age 55 and older may make an additional $1,000 catch-up contribution.
